

MILLER INSTITUTE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF INTERNATIONAL LAW FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM

The Miller Institute for Global Challenges and the Law, with support from the Advanced Degree Program Office, awards funding for students to attend the Annual Meeting of the American Society of International Law (ASIL) in Washington, DC. The ASIL Annual Meeting is the largest and most important U.S. gathering each spring of international law practitioners, policymakers, and scholars, and regularly features lectures and panels made up of the world's most eminent international lawyers, including many Berkeley Law faculty and alumni.

Attending the meeting is an unparalleled opportunity for students to expand their knowledge and build their network.
